Princess Anne receives a posy from Hattie, the daughter of one of the coaches on the Changing Lives through Horses scheme at Parbold Equestrian Centre.

Royal visitor for Parbold charity

A WEST Lancashire-based charity played host to a very special visitor when the Princess Royal, Princess Anne, went along to Parbold Equestrian Centre to meet young people enrolled on the Changing Lives through Horses (CLtH) scheme.

The scheme is a partnership between the British Horse Society, of which the princess is a vice-patron, and the RSPCA.

During her time at the centre in Bradshaw Lane the royal visitor met with representatives of all the organisations involved, as well as the young people taking part in the course,

Pupils from local schools were also in attendance and the VIP guest was treated to a performance of song and dance.

Princess Anne had been due to visit the centre this time last year but the event had to be cancelled at the last minute as a result of adverse weather conditions.

Changing Lives through Horses aims to re-inspire a desire to learn in people aged between 10 and 24

COUNCIL DEFENDS MARKET CHANGES

Authority says it is working with traders to make sure town's 'prize asset' has a bright future

Report by Kenny Parker

WEST Lancs Council chiefs have defended planned changes to Ormskirk market and say they are "working with traders to make sure it has a bright future."

The authority also refuted claims that most traders were opposed to the proposals.

It follows a campaign and petition launched by local businessman Graham Gilbert calling on the council to abandon its plans to withdraw provision of stalls and help with setting them up, from April of this year.

Mr Gilbert claimed that a survey he carried out showed that the changes, which would bring the council a saving of £87,000 per year, did not have the backing of traders. He said that 70% of those he had contacted believed the changes would lead to the "slow death" of the market.

However, the authority says that council staff, Ormskirk market traders and the National Market Traders Federation have all been closely involved in developing the new arrangements which seek to address challenges to the high street brought about by modern changes to shopping habits.

It added that many of the traders already set up their own stalls, while others who work off the council-owned traditional stalls also have their own stalls which they erect at other markets they attend.

Ormskirk Market - one of the borough's 'prize assets' says West Lancs Council.

And the council says the changes will enable it to reduce all permanent traders' overall annual rental charges, as well as providing three months of rent-free trading between January and March

A statement issued by the council read: "This is something traders have been requesting and has therefore been a change welcomed by them

"We are also looking to provide storage for traders' stalls if they will struggle to bring them in their vehicles.

"It is normal practice these days for market traders to set up their own stalls in many street markets across the UK.

"These measures are designed to ensure the market's continued success and will be combined with efforts to find a wider range of traders to complement our current much-valued traders and also at the same time answering the call from customers for such provision.

"Our intention is to grow the market and enhance the quality and variety of products on offer, which will be underpinned by the new improved trading terms being offered to traders."

The statement also included comments by traders who were positive about the changes - Lisa Sutton, who runs That Veggie Place, Gary Sutton, who runs the ladies clothing stall outside The Old Post Office and Neil Thompson of Thompson's Bakery stall on Moor Street,

Councillor David Evans, whose cabinet responsibilities include the market, added: "Ormskirk Market is extremely important for local people and the council shares their passion for preserving and enhancing one of the borough's prize assets. We are constantly seeking to modernise the market while maintaining our investment and continue to work with traders to address concerns they may have."

Oddfellows' helping hand

MEMBERS of a friendship group have donated £704 raised by hosting a raffle to a local charity.

The Ormskirk and Southport Oddfellows voted to donate the funds to the Southport Offshore Rescue Trust

Judith Catton, social events organiser for the Oddfellows branch, said: "We meet on the first Wednesday of the month at the Royal Clifton Hotel, Southport at 10.30am for an informal, friendly get-together and a cup of coffee.

"We always have a raffle to subsidise our social outings, but in 2019 we had a surplus and our members generously voted to donate this to the Southport Offshore Rescue Trust."

Anyone wishing to find out more about the group can call Judith Catton on 01704 545279 or email Judith.catton@oddfellows.co.uk.

Crematorium recycling scheme raises more than £10,000 for charities

Report by Kenny Parker

WEST Lancashire Cemetery and Crematorium has marked its fourth anniversary by raising more than £10,000 for local charities from recycled coffin handles and orthopaedic implants left over from cremations.

The funds raised at the crematorium on Pippin Street, Burscough, have been donated to local charities including Skelmersdale's Twinkle House, Wirral's Claire House Children's Hospice, and St Joseph's Hospice in Thornton.

The site is one of 34 belonging to the Westerleigh Group which has a metal recycling scheme. Families can give permission for metal from a cremation to be retrieved and recycled. This can include metal left from the manufacture of the coffin and other metals, such as orthopaedic implants.

Nationally, the recyclying scheme has raised close to £1million for charities since it launched in 2009.

Steve Glen, manager of the Burscough crematorium, which has hosted 3,800 services since opening four years ago, said: "We wanted something positive to come out of what can be a very sad time and donating these funds to local causes, which offer such a vital service, seemed like a natural choice for us.

"We're always looking out for new charities to support and we ask our funeral firector partners and the local community for suggestions too.

"People come here to remember, mourn and celebrate the lives of their loved ones. We regularly see families travel from as far as Preston, Liverpool and Wigan to have a funeral here which I think is due to the personalised service that we deliver, and the beautiful location and facilities.

"Whether families want the coffin to arrive in a tractor instead of a hearse; whether they want to bring a pet along; or whether they want to decorate the chapel in banners and flags from their favourite football team - we are happy to accommodate their wishes."

Positive feedback

Regional manager George Bell added: "We're delighted with the amount of funds we've been able to donate to charities since we opened in West Lancashire.

"Families' feedback about the site has been very positive. The team go the extra mile and this has been reflected in the distance people travel from to use the site, and the breadth of funeral directors we now work with throughout the region."

Twinkle House is a registered charity providing free support sessions for children and young people aged up to 19 years with disabilities and additional needs. It received £4,000 from the crematorium.

Claire House cares for seriously and terminally ill children by creating wonderful experiences aimed at bringing back a sense of normality and providing specialist nursing care and emotional support for families. It received £4,700.

The remainder of the money was shared with St Joseph's Hospice and other causes. St Joseph's provides care and support to more than 200 people with life-limiting conditions from within the West Lancashire, Sefton, Liverpool and Knowsley areas.

Daredevil Julie set to take to the skies again in aid of African charity

...and she's hoping to recruit volunteers to join her in even more daring stunts

Report by Kenny Parker

A WOMAN who conquered her fears to undertake a 'wing walk' for an African charity is taking to the skies again for an even more daring feat - and is hoping to recruit others to join her.

Julie Woods from Burscough took part in the wing walk in Cirencester, Gloucesterhsire last summer with pals Mark Cheetham from Rufford, Rebecca MacVicar, owner of Salon 30 in Burscough and Ashlea Allan, a teaching assistant at West Lancashire College in Skelmersdale, raising £3,556 for One Little Village, a charity based in Ghana.

Now though the intrepid 47-year-old is planning to go even further with 'loop the loop' and 'death roll' stunts!

Julile admits her "knees were knocking" before her last fundraiser but once airborne she says she found the experience "absolutely fabulous."

One Little Village was set up by Julie and brothers Mike and Charles Asomoah whom she met while working in Manchester.

Their aim initially was to build a new orphanage in the brothers' home village of Asekesu in Ghana. However, following a visit to the village it became apparent that many of the children were orphaned because their parents were dying from snake bites. That prompted them to direct their efforts instead towards funding a lab for the production of antidotes to the venom.

Having secured land for the lab, the initiative has been backed by the Ghanaian government which has promised to fund the scientists to make the antidote in crystal form which doesn't need to be refrigerated and can be transported to villages and prepared with the addition of water.

During a recent 10-week visit to the village, Julie featured on Ghana TV and radio talking about the lab - the first centre of its kind in the country - and wrote a blog about her experience which she said was physically and emotionally tough.

She also contracted malaria, despite taking preventative medication, and witnessed others suffer or die from the disease, as well as AIDS, TB and snake bites.

Despite this she has been encouraged by the support she has received on social media. One picture she posted of a street boy overjoyed at being given a teddy bear, with the title 'When you get your very first teddy' was shared 1.7million times and resulted in the charity receiving teddy bears from around the world including Germany, Sweden and China!

Her second wing walk is scheduled for Thursday, June 25 and she is hoping to have a group of 10 this time around with funds raised going towards the cost of building the lab - estimated at £10,000 - and other equipment.

Anyone interested in taking part can contact Julie on 07305 214 059.

Volunteers wanted for community litter-pick

INDEPENDENT political group, Our West Lancashire is inviting members of the public to take part in a community litter-pick in Ormskirk on Sunday, February 2.

Volunteers are asked to assemble at the Clock Tower in the town centre at 11.30am where waste sacks will be provided.

Litter grabbers and several pairs of gloves are also available but anyone with equipment such as yard brushes and shovels etc. is asked to take them along.

As in past litter-picks, the group will be focusing on the alleyways and 'grot spots' that tend to be privately-owned areas of land that the borough council is not responsible for.

The event is expected to last about one-and-a-half hours and is usually carried out in pairs for safety and support purposes.

Once the waste sacks are full they will be taken back to the Clock Tower where arrangements will be made for borough council operatives to collect them.

Anyone wishing to take part can email OWL's community action organiser Kate Mitchell at kathrynJane62@outlook.com.

Christingle service for Children's Society

ORMSKIRK Parish Church will stage a special Christingle Service on Sunday, February 2 at 4pm with proceeds raised in aid of The Children's Society's vital work with vulnerable children and young people. Reverends Pauline Bicknell and Stuart Haynes will lead a fun, lively celebration service, singing songs and using the Christingle to tell part of God's story. All are welcome.

NHS campaigners stage demo at Clock Tower

Report by Kenny Parker

A LOCAL group campaigning against changes to, and privatisation of, the NHS have held demonstrations in Ormskirk and Southport

Save Ormskirk and Southport Hospitals (SOSH) held demos at Ormskirk Clock Tower last Saturday (January 25), and at Southport Hospital on Friday, January 17, The group is affiliated to the national organisation, Keep Our NHS Public, which campaigns against what it describes as the ongoing privatisation of the NHS and its services.

Along with the privatisation of health services the group seeks to raise awareness of long-term NHS plans to introduce Integrated Care Systems (ICSs).

Judith Wright, a former lecturer at Edge Hill University, and leader of SOSH for West Lancs believes ICSs will lead to a US-style model of heath care which depends upon patients having insurance.

She claims that it has been the policy of governments for 30 years, and especially the last 10, to dismantle the NHS as a publicly funded, publicly managed and publicly owned system of universal health care.

Speaking to the Champion, Judith, who lives in Skelmersdale, said: "I personally have benefited from the NHS ever since I was born and my family have also benefited.

"33,000 people in the US died last year because they couldn't access the health care that they needed, because they didn't have health insurance, either because they couldn't afford it or the health insurance they had did not cover their needs. I do not want a system like that in this country."

A spokesperson for NHS England said that there had never been any plans to introduce 'US-style models' of health care to England and added that ICSs "are simply a way of bringing a range of local partners together, to take collective responsibility for managing resources, delivering NHS standards, and improving the health of the population they serve."

The Department of Health and Social Care and West Lancs Clinical Commissioning Group have been contacted for comment.

First meeting for 'task force' set up to tackle town's problem parking

A 'TASK force' set up to seek solutions to ongoing parking problems in Ormskirk is set to meet for the first time tomorrow (Thursday, January 30).

Report by Kenny Parker

Complaints by local residents sparked by the influx of students at Edge Hill University at the start of the autumn term last year prompted independent group Our West Lancashire to table a council motion calling for the authorities to seek a long-term solution to what they described as "extensive and often dangerous and illegal" parking in the town.

As a result of the vote, council leader Councillor Ian Moran called for a 'task force' to tackle the issue.

Made up of senior representatives from West Lancs Council, Lancashire County Council, Lancashire Police and Edge Hill University, the group is scheduled to meet tomorrow, although details of the venue have not been announced.

Meanwhile, Ian Davis, OWL's borough councillor for Derby Ward, which includes the university campus in St Helens Road, stressed the need for long-term solutions rather than 'quick fixes'.

Cllr. Davis has previously suggested that the old Jubilee Colliery immediately adjacent to the M58 motorway in Bickerstaffe, could be used for a park and ride scheme for the university and public.

He said: "This initial meeting needs to be the start of a sustained dialogue that identifies a range of measures. It's not acceptable for driveways to be obstructed or road safety jeopardised by cars parked at road junctions. I've identified a possible park and ride site as one possible measure.

"Whatever measures this meeting discusses, they need to get to the root of the problem. It's not a solution to just expect the police to issue more and more parking tickets.

"Equally, the university cite the 'student experience' as a key factor in attracting people to study in Ormskirk - the current traffic congestion and parking problems are certainly not a positive experience for students either."

A spokesman for Lancashire County Council, which has responsibility for highways, commented: "We already work closely with the police to monitor parking in Ormskirk and take action where necessary to deter poor parking and deal with any safety issues, and are also working with other partners to consider wider options to improve parking.

"We have now completed consultation on measures to improve safety around junctions on Brook Lane and Altys Lane, with a report due to be considered by cabinet shortly."

West Lancs Council said it appreciates local residents' concerns which is why it resolved to arrange the meeting involving senior representatives of the local authorities.

A spokesperson for Edge Hill University, said: "We recognise that demand for parking on campus can be challenging on a small number of days each year due to attendance patterns of trainee health professionals and teachers, which the university has very little control over.

'Positive'

"As a university, we are committed to encouraging more sustainable travel and have developed a Green Travel Plan which encourages all campus users to use alternative modes of transport whenever possible. We also make it clear to any individual who chooses to park legally on the public highway that they should do so safely and considerately in accordance with the Highway Code and any local parking restrictions while also encouraging respect and care for local residential areas.

"We continue to have positive discussions with our local partners and, as a member of the multi-agency task force that has been set up to tackle parking and traffic issues in and around Ormskirk, we will continue to work positively and proactively with this group."

Following the announcement of the task force last year, the university withdrew a planning application to make permanent a temporary 500-space car park on campus.

Lancashire Police declined to comment ahead of the meeting.

Warning signs to help crack down on country trail nuisance bikers

NEW signage has been erected along a West Lancs countryside trail to help police crack down on motorcycle nuisance.

The signs, funded by the West Lancashire Community Safety Partnership, have been erected along The Cheshire Lines Path which forms part of the Trans Pennine Trail and runs through Great Altcar and Downholland, linking Lydiate and Southport.

The land was home to the Cheshire Lines Railway Company until 1952 when the lines closed. West Lancs Council bought the land in 1988 and it now provides a further five miles of scenic space for walkers, cyclists and horse riders and families out walking with their children.

Sergeant Darren Carr of West Lancashire Neighbourhood Team said: "The Cheshire Lines has become a problem with people from outside the area using scrambler bikes to cause a nuisance. This is having a detrimental on the local community.

"This signage will support us in dealing with motorcycle nuisance along this trail. Anyone who is stopped by police in these areas for breaching the notice, risks having their bike seized. Persistent offenders could also face court action, including an anti-social behaviour order."

Anyone with any information can report online at Lancashire.police.uk/reportonline or call 101 or in an emergency call 999. Alternatively independent charity Crimestoppers can be contacted anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Volunteers helping with collecting and sorting the Christmas trees.

Tree-mendous effort!

Volunteer recycling team raise £2,400-plus for children's charity

A TEAM of volunteers have raised more than £2,400 for Mawdesley-based Rainbow Hub with a Christmas tree recycling service.

The volunteers, in vans, travelled throughout West Lancs and surrounding areas collecting trees for a donation of £10 per tree in aid of the charity (formerly Rainbow House) which supports children and young people with physical and neurological disabilities.

Rainbow Hub community fundraiser, Emma Parish, who organised the collections, said: "This is only the second time we have arranged this event and we are delighted that it was such a big success - thanks to a fantastic group of volunteers and the support of local business. Without their help this would not have been possible.

"We all had a great time and even managed to help one of our volunteers to celebrate his birthday along the way! We really appreciate him giving up his special day to help us out.

"We would also like to thank everyone who shared and promoted this event, especially Giltrees Christmas Tree Suppliers and those people who donated their trees to be collected by us.

"As we receive no statutory funding every penny counts and helps us continue to provide and expand our services. Raising more than £2,400 is a fantastic start to the year!"

Cutting recycling centre opening hours was "common sense"

County councillor defends authority decision to close Burscough site two days a week

Report by Kenny Parker

A COUNTY councillor has defended the authority's decision to reduce the opening hours at the recycling centre in Abbey Lane, Burscough following criticism of the move by local borough and parish representatives.

Since November 1 last year, the centre has been closed on Tuesdays and Wednesdays as part of cost-saving measures, implemented by Conservative-controlled Lancashire County Council, which included cutting opening hours at facilities across the county.

However the decision to close the Abbey Lane centre in midweek was labelled "a load of rubbish" by Burscough West Labour Councillor Andrew Pritchard who claimed it had led to residents having to go outside of West Lancs to dispose of waste and "unacceptable" queues at the Skelmersdale recycling centre, as well increasing the threat of fly-tipping.

County Councillor Eddie Pope.

In response, County Councillor Eddie Pope, Conservative representative for Burscough and Rufford, wrote to say that the county council had been faced with a £200 million budget deficit in 2017 as a result of the previous Labour administration.

Adding that the new Conservative administration had worked hard to reduce the deficit, without impacting too much on residents, he said: "The recycling tip in Abbey Lane is an example of the application of common sense.

"Research showed that the Burscough tip was hardly used in the middle of the week and, overall, it dealt with 50% of the level of waste at Skelmersdale tip.

'Sensible'

"It was therefore decided that sensible savings could be made by closing it for two days on a Tuesday and Wednesday, which we have done.

"Perhaps the councillors pictured protesing would like to look at the charge they have imposed for brown bins in West Lancashire and encourage recycling of green waste by getting rid of the charge, as well as prosecuting anyone found fly-tipping."

Cllr. Pope also pointed out that West Lancashire is the only borough council area that has retained two recycling centres.

Builder's boost for graveyard wall appeal

A FUND to make a wall running parallel to a village church graveyard safe has received a £1,000 boost from a leading housebuilder.

Persimmon Homes Lancashire has pledged the donation to All Saints Hesketh with Becconsall Church as part of its Community Champions initiative which aims to support local voluntary organisations

Sales and marketing director, Diane Finch, said: "The church and its graveyard are close to our Douglas Gardens development and we learned that the embankment which runs parallel to the road, alongside the graveyard, has collapsed, posing potential danger to people walking along that route.

"We are pleased to offer this Community Champions funding to help towards the church's plans for a new wall to secure the graveyard and prevent anyone slipping down the embankment."

Local Freemasons donate to Australian fire disaster fund

FREEMASONS in West Lancashire have contributed to a fund to help people affected by the catastrophic Australian bushfires.

The Masonic Charitable Foundation has awarded a grant of $150,000 (£79,000) to the Disaster Relief Fund set up by Freemasons in Australia to be divided equally among each of the three states most affected, New South Wales, Victoria and South Australia.

Tony Harrison from West Lancashire Freemasons said: "These terrible fires are an ongoing disaster for thousands of Australians. I'm very pleased that West Lancashire Freemasons are working together with Freemasons in Australia to help the victims of the blazes, many of whom have lost everything."

Council says Skem redevelopment will benefit whole of borough

BUILDING work has finally begun on the long-awaited Skelmersdale town centre redevelopment which West Lancs Council chiefs say will provide benefits for the whole of the borough.

Builders arrived on site on Monday, January 20 to start construction work on the scheme which the local authority believes will "breathe new life" into the area by bringing significant investment and new jobs.

West Lancs MP Rosie Cooper also welcomed the start of work on the project.

Phase one will see new shops created to house Lidl and B&M Bargains stores, along with another retail unit. There will also be a "fantastic" new play area in Tawd Valley Park and a new high street will be provided to link West Lancashire College with the rest of the town centre. Enhancements will also be made to the public areas outside Skelmersdale Library.

The council says that while construction work is taking place on phase one, plans will also start to be developed for future phases and the residents of Skelmersdale and the borough as a whole will be consulted on these in due course.

The town centre redevelopment scheme is a partnership between the borough council, Homes England and developer St. Modwen, and is supported by the Lancashire Local Enterprise Partnership.

Councillor Ian Moran, council leader and cabinet member for regeneration, said: "This is a special day for the people of Skelmersdale as building work begins to make our new town centre a reality.

"Over the coming months the town centre development will take shape and we can all look forward to the day when we start shopping in these stores and our children are enjoying the play area.

"I want to thank everyone at West Lancashire Borough Council, St. Modwen, Homes England and all our other partners who have helped make this happen. The scheme proves how ambitious the council is for the economy of Skelmersdale and West Lancashire as a whole."

The new scheme is expected to be completed in late spring 2021.

D-Day veteran Jim dies at 95

Jim Hornby receiving his Legion of Honour medal from French Ambassador Sylvie Bermann in 2016.

Report by Kenny Parker

A SECOND World War veteran who took part in the D-Day landings and helped with the liberation of France has passed away at the age of 95, his family have announced.

Great-grandfather Jim Hornby, who was awarded the Legion of Honour by the French Government in 2016 for his role in the Normandy landings of 1944, died in Southport Hospital on January 21.

Jim was just 19 years old when he landed on Gold beach with the Lancashire Fusiliers.

After being injured and spending a couple of days in hospital, he later joined up with the Welsh Fusiliers and was part of the Allied forces who fought their way through Belgium and into Germany

Son-in-law Martin Teago said that, in common with many veterans, Jim didn't talk much about the war until his latter years. He did though recount the horrors of the battle of the Falaise Gap, telling family how he never knew he was wounded until he felt a squelch in his boot and realised it was full of blood from a hole in his leg!

The Falaise Gap was considered the decisive engagement of the Battle of Normandy and the stench of decaying corpses - soldiers and horses - was reputedly such that RAF pilots could smell it hundreds of feet above.

Jim later married Polish nurse Nina, whom he had met in 1947 while she was serving in Germany and the couple returned to live in Whalley Drive, Aughton.

After demob in 1948, Jim became a driver for Jacob's biscuit factory in Aintree until his retirement.

Nina died 10 years ago but Jim continued to live independently until his death.

He is survived by two daughters, two grandsons and four great-grandchildren.

Jim's funeral will be held at West Lancashire Crematorium, Pippin Street, Burscough on Thursday, February 6 at 1pm.

County council reports 'much improved' financial position

LANCASHIRE County Council chiefs say the authority has a 'much-improved financial position, thanks to careful management of its finances in recent years.'

A report to the cabinet has provided an update on the council's 2019/20 financial position and the medium term forecast for the next four years.

And, based on the current forecast, the council says it won't need to use any financial reserves to support its revenue budget in 2020/21 or 2021/22.

Council leader, County Councillor Geoff Driver, said: "This is good news. In 2017, we faced a deficit of £200m, which quite frankly would have brought us close to collapse if we hadn't taken some big decisions.

"Whilst we still have a lot of work to do, we have managed to put the council on a solid and sustainable financial base, which means that we can invest in important council services for the benefit of Lancashire people."

Based on the most-likely funding scenario, the authority say its funding gap is forecast to be £28m by 2023/24 - a significant reduction from the previous forecast gap of £65m by 2022/23.

Cllr. Driver added: "Protecting our most vulnerable residents is a priority for us and the changes in our population mean that there is continued pressure on the council's budget, and particularly on adults and children's social care.

"Savings of over £58m between 2020 and 2023 have already been identified and although we still need to reduce the deficit even further it's a significant improvement from where we were in 2017."

Royal seal of approval for equestrian centre scheme dedicated to changing lives years old who otherwise might be at risk of falling into the category of NEETs - individuals not in education, employment or training.

The scheme encourages them to reconnect with society whilst working alongside horses, as the participants are often suited to an alternative education environment for a range of complex reasons.

The BHS has also recently teamed up with the RSPCA to rehome rescued horses at centres where the scheme is run. And Parbold Equestrian Centre is one of the first BHS-approved riding centres to rehome three rescue horses -Slinky, Trooper and Bungle - that will work with the young people on the programme.

Parbold Equestrian Centre owner, Carrie Byron, said: "We were honoured to have Her Royal Highness visit, especially after having missed out last year due to the snow.

"I was very proud of the team, students and horses. The British Horse Society Changing Lives through Horses Scheme gives children struggling in mainstream education the chance to build their confidence and self-esteem in a calm, safe environment.

"We have been involved with the scheme since the beginning of its development four years ago. It is now a nationwide project so we are very proud that our team have been integral to the success of it.

"Princess Anne was really interested in finding out all about the rescue horses' history and how they help us to teach young people about behaviour and social interaction."

Princess Anne meeting the team at Parbold Equestrian Centre.

Director of fundraising at the BHS, Tracy Casstles, commented: "We are delighted that our vice-patron, The Princess Royal, has been able to witness the wonderful bond developing between the young people on our scheme and RSPCA's rescue horses.

"Her Royal Highness has dedicated so much of her time to the equestrian industry and with Parbold being one of the first centres to launch the Changing Lives scheme back in 2017, it feels extra special for all those involved."

And RSPCA equine welfare operations manager, Gareth Johnson, added: "The Changing Lives through Horse Programme is undoubtedly one of the best schemes I have been involved with in rehoming RSPCA rescue horses. This is a fantastic opportunity for young people and horses to come together and interact."

Slimmers 'weigh in' with bumper donation for local food bank

Report by Henry James

LOCAL slimmers have 'weighed in' with a bumper tasty donation to a good cause in aid of people in need of a helping hand.

Members of Slimming World groups in West Lancashire have collected all their left-over Christmas 'goodies' and donated them to the Ormskirk food bank.

Slimming World senior consultant for the borough, Tina Whewell, said: "I'm so proud of all our members - their commitment to getting back on plan is commendable.

"They know that nothing is banned from our generous Food Optimising plan and things like chocolate, biscuits and crisps are definitely allowed in moderation.

Eager

"However we also encourage members to identify the 'trigger foods' that can lead to the path of slimming destruction and that most people have an abundance of in the festive period.

"This is something we do every year but this has got to be one of our best 'goodie hampers' ever - I couldn't believe how eager everyone was to get on board."

Food bank co-ordinator Peter Chalk with Slimming World consultants Sue Allt, Kathy Burslem, Zoe Baker, Carol Wylie and Tina Whewell and the left-over Christmas goodies donated by members of their groups.

Tracey Abbott, a member from Ormskirk, who has shed almost three stone and dropped three sizes with the help and support of her local Slimming World group, donated all her left-over goodies.

She said: "I feel fantastic and I'm 100% committed and determined to get to target this year, so I wanted to put all temptation out of reach."

Meanwhile, Ormskirk food bank co-ordinator, Peter Chalk, was delighted with the welcome donation. He said: "I really am overwhelmed with the Slimmming World members' generosity and also their determination to lose weight."

British Legion to close respite centre for forces veterans

Report by Danielle Thompson

BYNG House in Southport, which offers respite breaks to forces veterans and their families from throughout the country, is to close and the building put up for sale, the Royal British Legion confirmed this week.

The Champion first raised fears over its future last November but in a decision 'not taken lightly' the RBL, which owns and funds the imposing Promenade building, say the centre will shut its doors for good as part of a cost-cutting exercise.

The facility is no longer offering stays and shuts each year for staff training and 'deep cleaning' during December and January. However, the Champion understands it will not now re-open.

The move has led to widespread anger among veterans with three other centres also due to close in East Yorkshire, Somerset, and Northern Ireland. More than 3,100 people signed a petition 'To stop the Royal British Legion closing the respite care homes' after the consultation plans were announced in November.

The RBL say that since 2016, it has seen a 20% increase in the armed forces community needing basic support with housing, financial issues, mental health and well-being and mobility, while the average expenditure per household through the Legion's immediate needs funding has risen 45% from £900 to £1,330.

In a statement, the charity said that 'people are coming to the Legion with multiple needs where a holistic approach providing ongoing support is required.'

The RBL say the closures of the centres and the ending of their 'handy van service' will free up £5.8 million annually to 'invest more in on-the-ground, personalised support across its network.'

Byng House in Southport which the Royal British Legion has announced is to close.

The Royal British Legion's director general, Charles Byrne, said: "The modern day needs of the Armed Forces community are changing and it is our duty to change in response. We have closely considered all options for our organisation, and I believe the path we have chosen is the right one to make the greatest difference to those tackling the toughest challenges.

"The decision to close our break centres and handy van service has not been taken lightly, and we are extremely sad it will ultimately lead to some of our colleagues leaving the charity. The affected staff have all contributed greatly to our work, they are part of our community, and we are doing all we can to support them in their next steps."

It costs around £1million to keep Byng House open each year. Asked about the future of the building, the RBL responded: "The sale of buildings and assets will be handled in a sensitive and considered manner. As the Legion owns the freehold for the break centres, we will determine the best option for the buildings to ensure that the trustees of the charity receive the best value in accordance with their Charities Act obligations."

The RBL has an annual turnover of £163million with cash reserves of £70m.

Park and plug-in points available for borough's electric vehicle drivers

DRIVERS of electric vehicles can now find a place to park and plug-in when visiting Ormskirk and Skelmersdale - thanks to a partnership between Lancashire County Council and specialist company BP Chargemaster.

The charging points in West Lancashire can be found at Ruff Lane, Ormskirk and Sandy Lane, Skelmersdale.

The join project, to install 150 on-street charging points in the county, is nearing completion and reached a milestone with the opening of a new charging 'super hub' featuring the largest concentration of public rapid chargers in the North West and the first for drivers using the M6.

The 18 chargers are based on a park and ride site near junction 4 of the motorway at Lancaster.

Meanwhile work is nearing completion to ensure electric vehicle-only parking bays can be enforced at a further 32 locations across the county which form part of the scheme, with parking restrictions reserving them for use by electric vehicles being agreed by the council's cabinet.

Most of the charging points are accessed via on-street parking bays in town centres, with some also at transport hubs.

County Councillor Keith Iddon, Lancashire's cabinet member for highways and transport, said: "The Government has provided funding to establish 150 charging points in the county to increase take-up of electric vehicles, reduce emissions and improve air quality, and I'm glad that these points are now available for people to use.

"The way the motor industry is evolving suggests we're only going to see people using more electric vehicles in the future, and I look forward to them becoming a more common sight in Lancashire."

Chief executive of BP Chargemaster, Matteo de Renzi, added: "Lancashire County Council has been a great partner to work with in electrifying an entire county, helping drivers in the region to make the switch to electric vehicles."

The charging points are a mix of 50kW chargers which can provide a full charge for many electric vehicles in one hour, and 7kW chargers which can provide a full charge in as little as three hours.

The programme to establish more electric vehicle charging points follows a successful bid by Lancashire County Council for £14.8m from the Department for Transport's Highway Maintenance Challenge Fund to invest in new technology, including a roll-out of LED streetlights.

Extending rail links could have great benefits - economically and socially

THE article on January 8 suggesting extending Merseyrail coverage from Ormskirk to Preston seems very sensible with considerable potential benefits. Sometimes the best ideas are the simple ones.

Contractual issues with the current provider apart, there are a number of matters that would need attention, such as the infrastructure at Ormskirk station as it is only a single line into and out of the station.

Also, the views and willingness of Lancashire County to work with their Merseyside counterparts.

If investment is needed the Government would need to adopt in the next budget the changes they are actively examining regarding funding schemes on the test of cost versus benefits. At present the investment tools used favour schemes in the south of England.

However, why not look further? Yes, the Burscough North Curve, but why not also seek to extend the Merseyrail rail link to Skelmersdale via Kirkby/Wigan?

Transport for the North have included, after extensive consultation, these improvements in their Strategic Plan. The Liverpool City Region, in co-operation with Lancashire County Council, have indeed developed a new rail strategy which includes a new station and rail link proposal for Skelmersdale.

The benefits of such developments could be enormous for the area, both economically and socially.

Hopefully co-operative working between public organisations can also include a standardisation regarding concessionary travel so that Lancashire residents do not feel disadvantaged when in the future travelling alongside our Merseyside counterparts on the newly-developed routes.

K. M., Rufford, by email.

We can all do our bit to tackle climate crisis

YOUR readers will certainly be aware of the critical climate crisis which is threatening the earth. Like most people I wonder if there's anything I can do as an individual.

My contribution is unlikely to have much effect. So does that mean that I must just do nothing? No, you can cut your carbon footprint.

There are obvious things. Don't change your car or your smartphone every year; don't take exotic holidays to the other side of the world; eat less meat and so on.

Sadly, the Government is doing nothing.

Can I now mention an organisation which is challenging governments all over the world to take the drastic steps which must be faced - Extinction Rebellion.

I would like to set up an XR group in West Lancashire. We can then help to spread the message locally. I would be grateful if lots of you join up. You can contact me at maurice-george71@gmail.com.

No excuse for dog mess on streets and green areas

CONTINUING on the subject of dog mess, I walk my dog in the Up Holland area and I can honestly say the pavements and green areas are full of dog mess.

I think it time the council stepped up their patrols and fines. We pay quite high rates compared to some other boroughs.

In my opinion it is the same people who are letting their dogs do this without cleaning up. Some even bag it then just throw it on the pavements, fields etc. The buck should stop with these irresponsible dog owners.

I have walked paths with bins on them and the green areas at the side of the path are like a dog toilet - disgraceful.

There are quite a few bins in Up Holland and even if there isn't one handy - take it home!

Come on, stop being ignorant, lazy and downright disrespectful to people and the beautiful area you live in. Bag it and bin it or take it home. No excuses. You know who you are!

P. S., Up Holland, by email.

Path proposals conjure up visions of cycling becoming the town's transport 'norm'

I WAS very pleased to read that as part of wider proposals West Lancs Council are planning to deliver a cycling route between Ormskirk railway station and Edge Hill University in partnership with Lancashire County Council to encourage students and staff to travel to the Edge Hill Campus by public transport, cycling and walking, to reduce traffic problems.

I have for some time now had a vision of Ormskirk, being a university town, becoming similar to Oxford and Cambridge where cycling as a form of transport is the norm for most people within the town.

It reminds me of that old Queen song 'I Want To Ride My Bicycle'!

Thanks to Postcode Lottery players for helping to fund essential care for cats

I WOULD like to thank players of People's Postcode Lottery, who have raised over £2.2 million for Cats Protection to-date.

This has helped us find loving new homes for more cats throughout England, Scotland and Wales by funding essential cat care assistant and volunteer team leaders roles.

Players will be further supporting our homing work in 2020 by funding two behaviour posts, which provide advice and support to our branches and centres, and providing 10,000 microchips, helping to ensure that every cat leaves our care with a safe and permanent means of identification.

We were also delighted to be included in the recent TV advert announcing that People's Postcode Lottery players have now raised over £500 million for charities and good causes, which starred two kittens from one of our centres.

I'm happy to report that both kittens have since found loving homes and have settled in well with their new families.

Anyone wishing to adopt a cat or support Cats Protection can find out more at www.cats.org.uk.

Mark Beazley, director of operations, Cats Protection.

Ask the Government for more money for police - not West Lancs pensioners!

ONCE again Clive Grunshaw is rattling his begging bowl for more cash for the police budget.

I do think that the West Lancashire pensioners have had enough.

What we need after last year's extortionate rate rise, that ate up most of our pensions is a complete rest and zero rates for the next five years.

Mr Grunshaw should seek Government help if he requires more cash for his police force - or he could resign and save us a considerable sum of money.

Jim Burgess, by email.

Football club gears up to celebrate golden anniversary

Search launched for former members to join in special event to mark milestone

Report by Kenny Parker

OFFICALS of a long-established local sports club are busy making plans to celebrate a special milestone later this year.

Ormskirk West End FC was formed in 1970 after a group of youngsters called at the home of the late Bill Howard in Court Green and asked him to help them start a football team.

Bill was already managing another team at the time but with the assistance of the Scarisbrick Ward Residents Association, who bought an assortment of jerseys, two teams - under-13s and under-15s - were established and the new club was born with the name chosen by the players .

Now current chairman, Paul Gaskell, is seeking to contact former managers and players to help celebrate the club's 50th anniversary at a special event to be held at Hurlston Hall in June.

From that modest beginning - the first 'changing rooms' were in the garage of under-13s manager, Ernie Price in Marians Drive - West End grew into one of the largest grassroots football clubs in the county.

Today it boasts 15 teams, is an FA Chartered Standard Development club and has provided football for thousands of local boys and girls.

Paul Gaskell said: "We are trying to contact as many former players, coaches, managers and volunteers as possible to invite them to join us for our landmark celebration in June."

Anyone requiring more information on the event is asked to visit the club's website www.ormskirkwestendfc.co.uk or contact Paul Gaskell on 07590 728222 or Dave Gornall on 07572 423499.

‘Free-from’ food fad has taken fun out of shopping

I USED to think myself slightly unusual among my fellow men in that I tend actively to enjoy shopping - or at least I used to.

In any case the thought did cross my mind that since I have been ‘single’ now for many years, my shopping expeditions are no longer a bit like the Duke of Edinburgh having to follow HRH around as a kind of bag man, instead I can - indeed must - please myself as to what I look at and what I buy.

And, as I said, I used quite to envoy my shopping expeditions both on my home turf of Maghull and in Southport and Ormskirk, with the occasional visit to Bootle’s increasingly dismal New Strand.

But of recent months my pleasure has been ruined by the relentless determination of our supermarkets to pander to the culture of ‘healthy’ eating.

In aisle after aisle you come across shelves packed, I reckon rather patronisingly, with ‘free from’ this, that and the other, whether it be gluten (and I confess I don’t know what this is or what it does, though it doesn’t seem to have harmed me in the past so far as I know), ‘dairy’, sugar, salt - in fact, just about everything that makes food pleasant to eat.

Now, don’t get me wrong, I am quite well aware that some folk are genuinely allergic to certain additives and of course it is only sensible clearly to mark ‘gluten free’ etc. products.

But whole aisles given over to what for many of us are really ‘fad foods’ is boring in the extreme for ignoramuses such as I.

Now of course we are supposed not to eat produce of animal origin, partly I think because the vegans of this world would have it this way. But naturally these days the ‘Save the Planet’ card is played for all its worth.

‘Unfortunate facts’

And I believe it’s not really worth all that much. The argument goes that since cows fart a lot (and ‘fart’ is a perfectly good old English word too) they blow huge amounts of methane gas into the atmosphere doing all kinds of damage to the ozone layer. A good argument too - except it’s not strictly true!

According to an expert on climate change I was listening to on the radio recently, yes, it would damage our climate if it ever got high enough in the air to do it. But apparently, in fact, it does not.

In fact, according to this climate change guru (and she is all for electric cars, windmills, the whole shebang in fact), the emissions help, with the noxious gas becoming loaded with water, and falling back to earth and in that form in fact helps the regeneration of the soil.

So there!

Not, I suppose, that any unfortunate facts like that will stop the queues forming at McDonalds for the latest in veggie burgers, though why, if they are so keen on greens, they can’t boil or steam their own, as I do, I really don’t know.

Anyway, while on the general subject of healthy things to eat, I bought a frozen fish pie the other day and for the price, it made a very nice change too.

But more out of interest than any desire to criticise, I had a look at the packing to see what kind of fish resided within.

I still don’t know. What the package told me was that it could be any one of several - but worry not, the code on the box would reveal all. Except that when I looked for the codes and exactly what brand of fish I was eating, I found this could be done by, guess what? ‘Going to www.’ etc. etc.

So I still don’t know (or really care since it tasted fine) but if I fired up the computer (if I had one)

I’d bet a sardine to a sea bass that it would have turned out to have been Alaskan Pollock or such, rather than cod. Why can’t they just come clean in the first place?

Still, I wouldn’t worry too much about my rantings - they may possibly contain traces of nuts.

Snowdrops Sundays event cancelled

THE popular Snowdrop Sundays event at Bank Hall, Bretherton will not take place this year.

The carpet display of snowdrops, organised by the charity Friends of Bank Hall over weekends in February, attracts hundreds of visitors to the historic hall, which dates from 1608, every year.

However, this year’s event has had to be cancelled due to extensive utilities work on the narrow private roads leading to the hall which are said to be presenting “serious safety issues.”

Funeral directors keep it in the family

A WEST Lancs-based family funeral firm have welcomed two new additions to their management ranks.

MLS Independent Funeral Directors, which has premises in Moss Delph Lane, Aughton, and Liverpool Road North, Burscough, was founded by Ian and Margaret Hunter in 1987, joined shortly afterwards by daughters, Lisa and Sally

Now a third generation is joining the team after Lisa's daughter, Anabel Hunter-Walker and Sally's son, Louis Hunter, both gained diplomas in funeral arranging to become nationally-recognised funeral directors.

Sally Hunter said: "We are proud of the way in which the younger members of the family have fitted into the business and embraced the principal that the highest standards must prevail at all times."

Carol's free dress offer to help hard-pressed parents with prom costs

Report by Kenny Parker

A DRESSMAKER from West Lancs is aiming to help local parents with the cost of teenagers' school-leaving 'prom' parties by providing previously worn dresses for free.

Carol Morris, who runs Sewing Street at Burscough Wharf, came up with the idea after hearing from a growing number of parents coming into the shop about the soaring cost of their daughters' prom dresses.

She said: "These dresses can cost £400 or £500 each - which comes on top of the cost of shoes, hair and make-up etc. - and obviously many people simply can't afford to pay so much for a dress that will only be worn once."

So the seamstress set up a Facebook page appealing for donations of used prom dresses. This was shared by a lot of people and as a result, and from talking to customers, Carol has amassed more than 40 dresses, in sizes ranging from 6 to 20, which can be given to girls preparing for their end-of-year party.

The dresses are free although there is a 'small fee' for alterations.

Carol Morris with one of the prom dresses donated following her appeal.

Anyone wanting to pick up a dress - or donate one - can simply visit the shop during opening hours, 9am to 5pm, Tuesday to Saturday.

Local bands take the stage for return gig at city's ukulele festival

THE Ormskirk Ukulele Band are once again joining musicians from throughout the region to celebrate World Ukulele Day.

Following on from the success of last year's event, which raised £3,000 for the Clatterbridge Cancer Charity, more than 25 bands will be taking part in the free uke fest in Liverpool city centre from 1pm on Sunday, February 2.

The bands will be performing on stages around Liverpool One and the Bierkeller bar and, as last year, will team up for a mass ukulele performance at 3pm outside John Lewis when members of the public will be invited to take part in a sing-along while donating to charity.

Last year shoppers were led with uke renditions of You Are My Sunshine, Folsom Prison Blues and Bring Me Sunshine,

An after-party, starting at 4pm, will be hosted by BBC Radio DJ Janice Long at the Bierkeller bar.

Other local bands taking part include Maghull and District Ukulele Band, Northern Ukes, Splintered Ukes, The Travelling Wannabes and The Secret Ukulele Band.

Lovelorn Harry could be a perfect lady's companion

THE Carla Lane Animals In Need rescue centre is looking for a home for a mixed breed dog that has been in their care for more than six years.

Harry is a medium-sized, sandy coloured dog that was found tied up outside a supermarket more than six years ago. Though he is friendly with other dogs, the Melling-based animal charity say they are looking for a home without other dogs or children.

The dog, believed to be about eight years old, is also fearful of men so a lady owner with experience of looking after dogs is being sought.

A spokesperson for the charity said: "Harry is gentle, playful and loving once he gets to know people but needs patience and time to build trust. Harry has been looking for love for a very long time and we would love him to have a forever home by Valentines Day 2020."

You can contact the rescue centre on 0151 549 0959.

Harry is playful, loving and available.

History group meeting

NEXT meeting of the Ormskirk and District Historical Society will be on Monday, February 3 when guest speaker Janet Niepokojczycka will give a talk entitled 'Past Times in The Cartmel Vale' at the Four Lane Ends Mission, Skelmersdale Road, Bickerstaffe, starting at at 7.30pm. Admission is £3 for visitors but free for students with appropriate ID.

County stages another information evening for potential adopters

LANCASHIRE County Council is organising another information evening aimed at people thinking about adoption.

This will be held at County Hall, Preston on Thursday, February 6 from 6 to 7.30pm to help interested parties to find out about the process involved.

There's no need to book but early arrival is recommended so that the presentation can start promptly and you are also asked to stay for the whole session.

The focus is on two different types of adoption, so that more babies and young children can go to live with their permanent family more quickly.

Best for Baby (concurrent placements) places babies and young children, aged up to two, with foster carers who may go on to give them a permanent home.

Better Beginnings (the Fostering-for-Adoption scheme) is for children where there is no realistic prospect of a return to their birth family.

County Councillor Phillippa Williamson, cabinet member for children, young people and schools, said: "People from all backgrounds are needed to offer a permanent home and family to children who are not able to live with their birth family. We want to hear from people irrespective of their race, gender, sexuality, living arrangements, age or employment status. You can adopt as long as you are over 21, and live in Lancashire or close by. What is important are your personal qualities and that you can provide a loving home for a child through childhood and beyond.

The County Council is looking for permanent homes for babies and children who are unable to live with their birth family. Photo posed by a model.

"Sometimes babies come into our care at birth or soon after, and are looked after by foster carers, while we work with their parents to see if they can go home. If this isn't possible, the court process can take some time, and after that the baby usually has to move again to their adoptive parents."

Best for Baby (Concurrent Placements) place a baby or child straight away with their prospective adopters, who are also approved as foster carers, while the birth family is assessed and the court makes a decision.

Cllr. Williamson added: "Best for Baby placements mean that there's some degree of uncertainty for the adopters, because there is always a small chance the child might go home. If the adults can take on this uncertainty, the baby will have the chance of a more secure start in life. If they are adopted, they'll have been with their adoptive family for much longer."

Better Beginnings (Foster-for-Adoption) carers are approved as temporary foster carers, but are prepared to adopt the child, if it is eventually decided that they can't return to their birth family.

Arrangements through the Better Beginnings scheme can give children continuous care in the home that they may settle in permanently, rather than spending months with other foster carers first. They also allow them to bond with their new family at an earlier age.

This scheme has been encouraged by the Government nationally over the last few years, as part of reforms to speed up the adoption process.

Audience loved 'Jeeves & Wooster'

Review by Ron Ellis

Jeeves & Wooster In Perfect Nonsense
SDC at Southport Little Theatre

THERE is no better way to get an audience on your side than to involve them in the action and this happened at the very start of this play with Rikki Spofforth as Bertie Wooster sitting on the stage chatting to the front row and explaining what it was all about and, in between the frenetic action, this communication was kept up throughout to a pleasingly large audience.

Chris Smalley was a perfect Jeeves, one raise of his eyebrows speaking a thousand words. In between he also appeared as three other men and one woman.

Nathan Coleman made up the rest of the cast, taking on five roles in all, comprising three men, a police constable and Aunt Dahlia, often several of them in the same sketch.

Directed by Andrew Sloman, the action was non-stop as scenery was constantly moved round, props were wheeled on and off, films were screened in the background and, needless to say, there were numerous costume changes.

A scene where Wooster was sitting in a bath ostensibly naked, though happily we were never able to confirm this, brought the house down. Indeed, the audience participation throughout added to the atmosphere in the theatre.

I would unreservedly give 10 out of 10 for the impressive performances of all three actors who were hardly ever off the stage the whole evening and all the intricate and acrobatic moves were carried out without even one mistake.

A scene from Jeeves and Wooster

The only drawback for me, and this is a personal thing, is I don't like farces and P.G Wodehouse stories are silly in the extreme. They are also very confusing as you never know what is really happening or why and, after a while, despite the amusing incidents, they become tedious and I was glad it was over by 9.45pm.

Yet comedies, however banal, like thrillers are the plays that bring in the biggest crowds and, indeed, the TV viewers too, as a glance at viewing figures will confirm.

I will say, though, that Rikki Spofforth was a million times better than Hugh Laurie in his portrayal of Wooster.

Star Rating 7 out of 10. The audience loved it.

The show runs until this Saturday (February 1) at 7.30pm each evening. Tickets from the Box Office on 01704 530521/530460 or book online at www.littletheatresouthport.co.uk

T.Rextasy

Flamboyant and charismatic star being celebrated at Atkinson

T.REXTASY, presented by Sweeney Entertainments, return to venues across the UK in 2020 with The Greatest Hits Tour, transporting audiences back to relive the good old days of the 1970's.

The show will be at The Atkinson, Southport on Friday, February 21 at 7.30pm.

Marc Bolan, with his band T.Rex, was one of the most flamboyant and charismatic stars of the original glam rock era.

With Bolan's special ingredient of Rock-a-Boogie songs, the band had a string of huge hits throughout the 1970s including Love to Boogie, Telegram Sam, Jeepster and 20th Century Boy.

Accepted as the world's only official live tribute band dedicated to Marc Bolan and T.Rex, and the only band endorsed and approved by Marc Bolan's family, estate, original ex-members of T.Rex, and Bolan's catalogue management, T.Rextasy have been described by many as 'beyond the boundaries of tribute'.

They have been performing all over the world for more than 25 years, a career that ironically out-lives Marc's very own T.Rex.

The skilled musicianship of Danielz (vocals and lead guitar), Neil Cross (rhythm guitars, backing vocals), Rob Butterfield (bass guitar, backing vocals) and John Skelton (drums) lets the timeless music and legacy of Marc Bolan and T.Rex live on, performing everything from 20thCentury Boy to Children of the Revolution as well as Telegraph Sam to Hot Love with superb authenticity.

Sweeney Entertainments, co-founded by Julie and Peter Sweeney, has been providing a wide repertoire of top-quality touring shows for theatre and corporate events for more than 15 years both in the UK and internationally and now boasts a repertoire of 14 touring productions. Julie said: "T.Rextasy return to venues across the UK in 2020 with another powerhouse evening of rock 'n' roll. This concert show boasts two hours of amazing completely live glam rock, with a generous mix of the popular hits, play b-sides and album tracks."

Danielz, lead vocalist and lead guitarist, said: "I absolutely love playing the songs of T.Rex. It's the actual buzz one gets of going on stage and giving the audience a live experience. Fans are coming to have a good time, and when I see people smiling and doing just that it makes it really worthwhile."

This concert saims to "faithfully recreate the energy and performance of Marc Bolan and T.Rex".

Show was 'old fashioned pantomime at its best'

Review by Ron Ellis

The Wizard Of Oz
The West End Players
Lord Street West Church Hall, Southport

AS a change from their customary annual pantomime, the West End Players New Year offering for 2020 was The Wizard of Oz, staged in collaboration with The Funky Monkees.

Tom Wharton took the title role with Rowan Nolan as Dorothy, Lauiren Galley as The Scarecrow, Sian Davies as Prince Boz of Oz, Fern Thompson as the Lion. Daisy Halfpenny as Toto and Neil Spruce as The Tinman. Comedy was provided by Nick Rimmer and Sarah Davenport as Wotchit and Witchit.

Taking charge of events was Katy Hibbert who showed a great gift for comedy and communicating with an audience. Katy gave a lively performance as Wavy Wanda (the good witch) with Linda Cunningham her counterpart in the role of Evil Eva. Pantomimes are for children and the more children there are in the cast, the bigger the size of the audience as their families and friends come especially to see them. This was certainly true here as there was nearly a full house to see 15 members of The West End Players Juniors taking to the stage, alongside young members of the Funky Monkees.

There was plenty of singing and dancing, to popular numbers like Everything I Do, Greased Lightning and Pretty Woman, plus the usual 'behind me' games to add to the pantomime feel, while mention must be made of the colourful costumes and the artistic sets.

Andrew Catterall provided the musical accompanist and Maria Edwards and Chloe Ackers were in charge of Children's Direction and Choreography.

The script was written by Michael Buchanan-Smart and the show was directed and produced by Wendy Aspin and Diana Draper.

The Wizard of Oz finishes this coming Friday and Saturday with shows at 7.30pm each evening and a 2.15pm matinee on Saturday.

Star rating 6 out of 10. Old fashioned panto at its best

AN INSPIRED NEW WAY TO RETIRE

A NEW PERSPECTIVE IN RETIREMENT LIVING: THE SAILINGS IN SOUTHPORT

Southport's brand-new retirement development is now open and welcoming new Homeowners. The Sailings, on Alexandra Road, features a range of 55 spacious one, two and three-bedroom apartments by award winning developer, Adlington Retirement Living.

With all the time in the world, a lively social calendar, the company of friendly people and the reassurance of support when you need it, you can truly live life your way, every day, at The Sailings.

A COMMUNITY ON YOUR DOORSTEP

This new, high-end, development offers the best of both worlds. Homeowners can enjoy the privacy of their own peaceful and spacious apartment, spend time in the leafy gardens (which are maintained by an expert team of gardeners), relax in the hair salon, therapy room or lounge and then invite their friends over to enjoy the table service restaurant, without having to think about cooking or washing up.

CONTEMPORARY ACCOMMODATION

There are plenty of thoughtful touches and services available to make life a little bit easier too. The apartments have been designed with later life in mind and every detail, from the height of the door handles to the layout of the bathroom has been considered to make everyday life safer, simpler and more comfortable for homeowners.

Each of the private apartments will include generous living areas and contemporary fitted kitchens with integrated appliances. Many have stylish en-suite shower rooms and separate bathrooms, and for that all-important outside space, most apartments feature a walk on balcony or patio area, overlooking the beautifully landscaped gardens.

PEACE OF MIND

Adlington's real point of difference is being able to offer round the clock, 24-hour on-site support, and tailored care should it ever be needed, in the future. By offering optional and flexible care, homeowners and their families have peace of mind, which is cited as one of the key reasons why so many people choose to invest in an Adlington apartment.

Security is of paramount importance and a sophisticated emergency call system operates in each apartment and throughout all the communal areas and gardens, as well as a security video entry so you only allow access to people you know and trust.

MOVING MADE EASY

Adlington go the extra mile to ensure the journey to retirement living goes as smoothly as possible, by offering an optional decluttering service, and supportive sales team on hand every step of the way. They even throw-in a unique, complimentary 8-hour Handyman service to help you achieve the best look for your new apartment.

AWARD-WINNING EXPERTISE

Adlington recently picked up the much-coveted WhatHouse? Silver Award for Best Retirement Development in 2019 for their Macclesfield development in Cheshire. Alexandra Johnson, Adlington Sales and Marketing Director comments:

"Adlington's vision is to empower our older generation to live a long, happy and healthy life. By creating spacious homes in safe and secure environments with active communities - we are responding to the changing needs of retirees and helping individuals live an independent life."

IN MEMORIAM

DRAPER
JAMES

29th January 2019

I sit by your grave and weep, silently not to disturb your sleep.
Rest in peace my beautiful Son, it wont be long before we are one.
While I lie by your side and talk, no secrets to hide, tell me James, what did I do wrong.
What should I have done to make you strong, now I sit here and cry.

Love Mum, Dad and family

Plucky mud-plugger is very much in range

CANCEL the lilies and chuck your funeral clobber back in the wardrobe. The Suzuki Jimny is alive and well.

Over the past week or so there have been rumours suggesting that Britain's favourite bitesize off-roader was about to face the chop, but since then Suzuki's UK division has itself decided to try and quash what it calls 'media speculation' - and insists that the plucky little mud-plugger is still very much part of its range.

So how has a funky, go-anywhere companion that offers Land Rover-bating talent in the rough stuff for a fraction of the price – and been picked up an enviable haul of gongs from the motoring mags in the process – been put on life support?

It's all to do with emissions, and specifically, the average amount of carbon dioxide across an entire carmaker's range.

The Jimny has a relatively inoffensive 1.5-litre petrol engine, but unlike, say, Nissan with its LEAF or Vauxhall with its latest Corsa-e, there aren't yet any zero-emissions Suzuki offerings to offset a range entirely dependent on petrol engines.

Sure, it's fitting the Swift with hybrid technology in the spring, but that's a fairly small shuffle compared to the giant leaps European legislation is now demanding, and it's the same thinking that's making city cars – where the benefits of pricey electric tech get harder and harder to square up - increasingly un-economic to develop.

All of which leaves the Jimny on a bit of a sticky wicket, which is a shame because it's a cracking little car.

Sure, it might be equipped with a distinctly old-fashioned ladder frame chassis and not be the most inspiring thing through the corners, but that's precisely why it's won so many people over; in a world full of bland, me-too crossovers this is a proper small off-roader

So it doesn't have a pricey all-electric option. So what?

I reckon the long-term solution is for Suzuki to team up with its latest minority shareholder – a small up 'n' coming carmaker called Toyota, who you might have heard of – and get some tried and trusted electric cars onto the market sooner rather than later.

It might even be worth doing an all-electric Jimny, as reportedly the factory back in Japan's working at full pelt to try and meet all the orders.

Put it this way; the old Jimny survived 20 years in Suzuki's showrooms because so many people loved it, and that car's predecessor managed another 16 years before that.

It'd be a crying shame if the current one's caught out after just two.

Life is looking up for both local teams

Report by Neil Leatherbarrow

BOTH local teams are away on Saturday but both are beginning to look upon the remainder of the season far more positively than they were a couple of months ago.

Skelmersdale United, now back in their home town, are seeing a huge rise in attendances and a serious lift in performances especially at home.

Burscough are also looking a lot stronger outfit as manager Nick Matthews is able to bring in more experienced players and recent results back up that theory.

Both teams have struggled to get away from the relegation zone in the North West Counties Premier Division, however both teams have won three out of their last six league games and the boost it has given them is tangible.

Skelmersdale have seen their home gates rise dramatically and their form has matched the attendances, winning three out of four home games, their only defeat being against runaway league leaders 1874 Northwich and that only 3-2.

This week they brought in experienced striker Jason Carey.

Burscough have brought in new signings that have clearly had an impact and although they are far from safe from relegation, the situation looks nowhere near as gloomy as it did.

Skelmersdale play relegation strugglers Padiham away on Saturday and on form they are probably favourites to bring back the three points, Burscough have an away game at third placed Charnock Richard on Saturday, but won't cross Parbold Hill without hope.

Next week Skelmersdale have a midweek encounter at the JMO Sports Park at Blaguegate Lane against Rylands on Tuesday, February 4 followed by another home encounter on Saturday, February 8 against Irlam.

Burscough don't have a midweek game next week but for the first time ever will welcome Avro to Victoria Park on Saturday, February 8.

Double late goal agony denies Skem taking points against leaders

Skelmersdale United 2
1874 Northwich 3

AFTER defeat on the road the previous week, United's home record suffered a blow with a 3-2 loss against league leading 1874 Northwich, writes Simon Driscoll.

Paul McNally handed newly re-signed Jason Carey his second debut, Khalil Osi-Efa and Daniel Murphy returned from injury and Gabriel Ellis made his first start for the club.

United took the lead in style with just five minutes played, Gabriel Ellis' blistering run saw him cross low for Jason Carey who fired past Tony Aghayere into the top corner for 1-0.

Lee Jackson looked to level for 74 with a powerful long-range effort which drew a diving save from Barnes and minutes later, Stuart Wellstead connected to a free-kick to head narrowly past the far post. 74 continued to threaten with a low shot from Callum Gardner forcing Barnes to tip the ball around the near post.

Despite their chances, the visitors were to fall 2-0 down just after the half hour mark, Ellis capitalising on a clearance from Aghayere to flick into the path of Emini Adegbenro who slotted in to double United's lead.

Adegbenro should have doubled his tally within minutes as he connected with an aerial pass from Carey on the volley but his effort despite beating Aghayere went achingly past the far post.

The visitors had two chances in the space of a few seconds as both Jake Parker and Hare saw efforts blocked by Barnes and the United defenders.

Like the first half, 74 began the second period brightest with Harry Cain cutting inside and forcing a stop from Barnes with a cross which fell into the path of Mark Jones who himself forced a point-blank stop from the United 'keeper.

74 were handed a chance to cut the deficit with 50 minutes played as Cain was apparently upended by the challenges of Ben Stanton and Jack Grimshaw, Callum Gardner stepped up and slotted past the dive of Barnes for 2-1.

Northwich were almost gifted a leveller as Cain's cross cannoned off Dan Murphy with Barnes saving his defender but in doing so pushed the ball against the post with Murphy then clearing the danger.

Gardner looked for his second goal of the afternoon with a lofted effort travelling past the post before he set up Parker who lifted the ball narrowly over the bar.

Another dangerous cross from Cain saw Parker force a defensive block from close range while at the other end, substitute Will Dunne sent a shot narrowly past the post from outside the area

As the match crept towards added time, a mix-up between Stanton and Barnes gave 74's Wellstead the goal to aim at but before he could shoot, he was taken out by Stanton. The referee pointed to the spot and Matt Woolley stepped up and sent Barnes the wrong way to level at 2-2.

United could have restored the lead with three minutes of the five minutes added time with Carey firing a shot achingly past the post and the miss was to prove costly as a long pass from Jackson minutes later found Gardner who advanced into the box before slotting past Barnes to complete the turnaround and surely seal the win for 74 at 3-2.

Skelmersdale Utd: Barnes (c), Davies, Jarrett, Osi-Efa (Dunne 77), Murphy, Stanton, Ellis (Staunton 70), Carey, Brodie (Griffiths 75), J. Grimshaw, Adegbenro. Subs not used - Glennon, Tyrer.
1874 Northwich: Aghayere, Koral, Tinning, (Russell 75), Jackson, Jones, Parker, Gardner, Woolley, Wellstead, Hare, Cain. Subs not used- Hinds, Weir, Duckworth, McGowan.

Salkeld strike seals a valuable win for Linnets

Burscough1
Congleton Town 0

A GOAL in the 69th minute from James Salkeld was enough to give the Linnets three valuable points on Saturday, that ease the pressure in the Linnets relegation fight with a defeat for Litherland Remyca creating a three point safety gap in Burscough's favour, writes Neil Leatherbarrow.

Burscough were boosted by the return of the experienced Kevin Pollard in midfield and at centre-half Luke Gibson has rejoined the club after a spell away, the two made a difference as Burscough looked far more solid down the middle than they have for most of this season.

Congleton started well but two attempts from Dan Cope failed to find the target, one blocked away the other going wide.

Burscough's first serious attack came from Dale Korie-Butler, the former Widnes man latched onto the ball in the middle of the park and ran at goal, his well struck shot being tipped over the crossbar by Congleton goalkeeper Craig Ellison.

Headers from Cope and Josh Ryder threatened Burscough, but only a last ditch challenge kept out the Linnets at the other end.

As the interval beckoned Burscough's Conor Christiansen should have done better with a shot that went high and wide, while Burscough goalkeeper Dave Jones parried away a shot from Kyle Diskin. The finale saw a Linnets free-kick firmly grasped by visiting keeper Ellison.

The second half kept up pretty much the same tempo as the first-half, with both teams looking to win and it was only moments into the half that keeper Ellison kept Burscough at bay, saving at feet in a one on one situation.

In the 69th minute the hardworking Linnets midfield interrupted another midfield move by Congleton and the ball was fed to Salkeld, he ran on through the visitors defence and fired low into the bottom corner, it was an excellent finish to give Burscough a 1-0 lead.

Linnets scorer James Salkeld in action against Congleton. Picture by Marc Taylor.

Congleton pushed to equalise but a strong determined Burscough backline defended well and Congleton's best effort was an Aaron Bott header that Jones did well to hold onto.

As the game entered the latter stages Burscough looked more and more comfortable, Congleton were still pushing forward but in truth they were posing few problems and by the final whistle a Linnets win was almost a formality.

The return of Pollard and Gibson has given Burscough a strength down the middle that they have lacked all season and the pair will make Burscough a much tougher proposition, it will be crucial as the season goes to its conclusion but must give Nick Matthews team confidence.

Burscough: Jones, O'Brien, Fleming, Gibson, Kinsella, Pollard, Christiansen, Pope, Korie-Butler, Salkeld, Lomax C.

Congleton Town: Ellison, Brislen, Morris, Bergin, Ryder, Booth, Diskin, Freakes, Cope, Bott, Bridge

Feel Great for 2020

Linden Tree Health helps people experience better health and more happiness through diet and lifestyle change. Erica Gibbon, nutritional therapist, offers a trained eye to identify things you can do to make most impact. 'I use functional medicine by working in partnership with my clients to identify and address the root cause of symptoms for them individually. We all have different diets, lifestyles, environmental exposures, emotions, biochemistry and genetics, so finding what is best for you isn't always easy on your own.'

Erica realises that giving people the tools to believe in themselves and make it easy to follow through is just as important as the information she provides. 'If someone doesn't feel able to change or that the results won't be worth it, they're unlikely to take the action needed'. Getting people excited about gorgeous, nourishing food that really allows them to do their 'thing' in the world was key for Erica when she set up her clinic in Birkdale, Southport, seeing clients 1-2-1.

'If food doesn't ignite passion and give pleasure, I'm not sure how that can be healthful' she says. 'It's so much a part of who we are and how we socialise so it needs to be inspiring and enjoyable. Building a great relationship with food can be lifechanging.

In addition to her Birkdale clinic, the Penta hotel in Warrington has become 'home from home' for Feel Great Retreats that Erica has been running regularly for the last 3 years with her business partner, Laura Johnson. We get great feedback from the weekends' Erica tells me. People tell us they love the ethos and cameraderie and we have a lot of fun.

Erica's newest project a 12-week community-based programme she is organising locally with other wellness professionals. It kicks off with a free seminar at Our Lady of Lourdes Church Meeting Rooms, Hillside on 5th February 1pm. 'I'll explain opportunities available over the next 3 months and it'll be followed by a workshop - Nutrition and Lifestyle for Brain Health - that will be relevant for everyone and especially useful for people wanting to improve their memory and/or mood.'

And talking of fun, Erica has joined with 25 other business-women from around the world to co-author a book, 'Joy: Recipes for Abundance' that is due to be published on Amazon next week. 'We simply want people to experience more Joy so we hope this book will inspire people, no matter what their circumstances.' You can find further information at http://learnmoreabout.info/joy

TESTIMONIALS

"Although I have some way to go, I am on the right path and I know that Erica is there to help. I look forward to every session, it is always worth it and I always come away with something to work on to help me deal with the stresses that life throws at me."

Sarah

"It was surprisingly painless and now most of the forbidden foods are back on the menu and my energy levels have improved considerably."

Trevor

"My first session was invaluable and I came away really focused. With each session I feel really inspired and motivated. Erica also communicated with my GP and with help from both I have been able to come off some of my medication which I am really pleased about. It has all had such a good impact on my self esteem. Thank you!"

Awards evening celebrates the county's best business partners

The first awards evening hosted by Edge Hill's Productivity and Innovation Centre brought together some of the finest SMEs (small and medium-sized enterprises) and business partners from across Lancashire. Pro vice-chancellor Professor George Talbot welcomed 96 guests to celebrate the significant progress and improvements businesses had made since completing the university's unique Innovation Sprint Programme, designed to help businesses develop strategies for profitable growth. Professor Simon Bolton, creator of the programme, said: "Our inaugural business awards are a testament to Lancashire's most ambitious SMEs. Following completion of our 2018-19 programme, the businesses have implemented significant change within their organisations, which has resulted in profitable growth. We are delighted to share in their success." Prior to the awards began, guests heard from Danny Simpson, CEO of MID Communications Ltd., who described his career journey and how his passion and determination drove him to achieve and build his business to the success it is today. He is head of the largest independent franchise of Telefonica O2 UK, providing both B2B and B2C services across 17 retail stores throughout the North West and a business centre based in Rochdale. Business development manager for the PIC, Michael Banford, announced the awards, including Outstanding SME Award winner Home Instead West Lancashire and Chorley. Director Gail Godson, said: "Winning the award was a total and utter shock, we couldn't believe it. The entire awards evening was wonderful, being surrounded by so many successful Lancashire based entrepreneurs and business any one of which could have been chosen as worthy Outstanding SME Award winners. "Being rated by our regulator, the Care Quality Commission, as outstanding is a credit to the skills, dedication and professionalism of all our wonderful staff, but to now be recognised as an Outstanding SME by EHU PIC, academia and the wider business community is simply amazing." During the evening guests also took part in a silent auction to win a range of prizes to raise funds for Derian House Children's Hospice in Chorley, a charity that Professor Simon Bolton has fund-raised for by taking part in five 5K runs over five weeks. To date, PIC has raised more than £1,400 for the hospice. Other awards presented on the night included the Technology Innovation Award, Product or Service Innovation Award, Business Model Innovation Award and Growth and Business Aw a rd . The Productivity and Innovation Centre is part funded by the European Regional Development Fund to provide innovation support and advisory services to Lancashire-based SMEs.

We've a full and varied schedule of events and activities which people can participate in as they choose. We help and support residents to explore their interests and to discover new ones. Whether they are into music or love to bake, enjoy gardening, arts and crafts, bingo or church services, we provide something for everyone. Checkers of Churchtown

Do you ever want to buy just one screw? Or ask someone for a bit of advice on the tools required for a particular job? Or have timber cut to size?

When you think home design, one of the first things that springs to mind is Checkers of Churchtown. After 39 years of trading in Southport, this family run business really does have the answers to everything.

Checkers of Churchtown are a traditional DIY retailer. They believe passionately in good friendly service and think you should have the best advice available.

First welcomed by the local community back in 1980, Checkers of Churchtown started out in business selling timber, wallboards, plywood, melamine and beading etc., all of which could be cut to size (a service which is still available at Checkers to present day) They also offered an extensive range of hardware, something quite unusual for a local DIY shop at the time. It was this base that soon led to their huge success in the area and in turn opened new doors for the company, expanding into Kitchens, Bedrooms, Bathrooms, Wallpaper and fabrics.

Take a walk through Checkers showroom today and you will be amazed at the huge range of displays and home furnishings. Put together with style and flair, their showroom designs are specially created to tap into your imagination and open your mind into new layouts and colour schemes.
From the biggest space to the smallest little area, Checkers will show you that anything is possible with space saving room designs and you don't have to pay a lot of money to achieve the very best look.

Checkers of Churchtown cater for all tastes in home design. Whether your chosen style is contemporary or more traditional, there's a wide range of ideas and styles in all Bathrooms, Kitchens, Bedrooms, Sliding door systems and Soft furnishings.

With a full measure, design and installation service available, the whole job can be dealt with by the experts. The family is also very proud of their wallpaper and fabric showroom with many big names on offer such as Sanderson, William Morris, Osborne & Little, Harlequin and many many more.

It's said in fact that with over 200 wallpaper designs in stock at any one time, Checkers of Churchtown could well offer the largest selection of stock wallpapers in the Southport area.

The amazing range of wallpaper together with the fantastic range of fabrics couple together to make the very best experience when choosing you home furnishings.
The fabric department offers a top quality making up service too so if looking for that special material for curtains and blinds to finish off the look it couldn't be easier.

The key to Checkers expansion and success over the years has got to be their high level of customer service and their diversity as a local retailer.

Their knowledgeable team are on hand to help with the tiniest Nuts & Bolts, through to the most inspirational Wallpapers, Paints and fabulous Fabrics, to complete Kitchens, Bedrooms and much much more.
Here's to many more years trading as the most established DIY retailer in Southport.

Mersey Boroughs Initial Teacher Training

"Train in great schools, learn from amazing teachers"

If you are thinking of a rewarding career in Primary School teaching, then there can't be a better way to start than with Mersey Boroughs ITT Partnership.

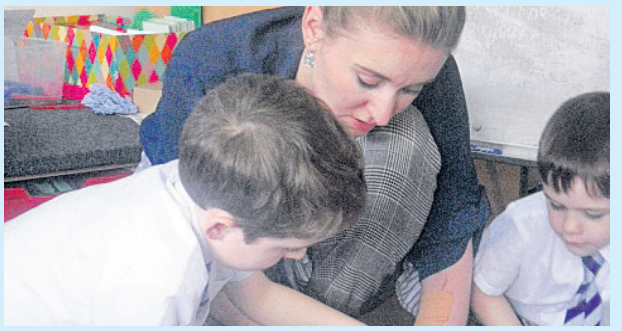
Based at St Mary & St Paul's C of E Primary School in Prescot, Liverpool, the partnership is a provider of school based Primary Teacher Training leading to the award of a PGCE with Qualified Teacher Status (QTS).

Mersey Boroughs ITT Partnership was established in 2012 by a group of like-minded schools who felt that training in actual schools provided the best route into the teaching profession.

It's very important that teachers are well equipped with realistic, up to date training for the future and for that reason, the partnership work with exceptional schools across the whole of Merseyside.

Because these schools are of such a high standard, it means that upcoming trainees learn from amazing individuals who are very experienced and exceptional teachers themselves. Being in a face to face learning situation in schools and the programme being constantly evaluated means that the course is relevant for teaching today giving the trainees a good head start

For this reason the training programme provided at Mersey Boroughs ITT Partnership has become a highly valued route into the profession of primary school teaching with a 100% employment record at the end of the course.



Head teachers actively seek to employ from the partnership and feedback has shown that ex trainees' retention rate in the profession is excellent and some are now moving on to senior roles.

Trainees are guaranteed placements in local schools and benefit from individualised pastoral support both during and beyond their training.

Teachers who have been through the programme only have great things to say about their career preparation through the partnership:

"The information and support throughout the whole process from application to attending has been fantastic"

"From previous university experiences MBITT excel in their preparation and organisation. The materials and delivery of sessions is excellent"
